

LAST RITES CONCLUDED

Were To Be Seen.

IMMENSE CROWDS ON STREET

Not an Untoward Incident Marred
the Last Act of Portugal's Tragedy and There is Relief Tonight That All Passed Off Well.

LISBON, Feb. 8.—With the church bells tolling continuously, the bodies of the murdered king and Crown Prince in two golden chariots shrouded in black velvet and drawn by eight hooded horses, were escorted by a glittering funeral pageant today across the city to the Pantheon and laid to rest beside their ancestors of the Braganza dynasty. Seven hours elapsed from the time the foreign princes and special ambassadors of all the powers gathered at the palace for a ceremony there, until three salvos of 21 guns and three volleys of musketry reverberating over terraced and sun bathed hills, and answered by the British war ships in the harbor announced that the last sad rites were concluded. Not an untoward incident marred the last act of Portugal's tragedy and there is relief tonight that all passed off well in view of the political turmoil which has wrenched the country. Immense crowds gathered on the streets and elsewhere and troops on duty along the route and at many points. It was a grief stricken palace and hearts turned in pity at the scene in the private apartments. Neither Queen Amelie nor the Dowager Queen Maria Pia were to be seen, but King Manuel carried himself bravely as he might though he was on the verge of collapse when the ordeal was finished and tears coursed down the cheeks of the young king many times during the day.

When the members of the court and the special ambassadors entered the chapel for the last brief services the king remained behind. Neither he nor the two queens followed the cortege to the chapel. The violent death of Carlos absolved King Manuel from conforming to the tradition of walking behind the dead to the grave. Nevertheless his absence and the absence of Queen Amelie and the Dowager Queen has caused universal comment, being attributed to other reasons.

A MATTER OF MONTHS.

Prominent Republican Leader Stated End of Monarchy is Near

LISBON, via Badajoz, Spain, Feb. 8.—The Republican leaders of Portugal assert confidently that the Republic is now a matter of months. A prominent Republican leader stated to the Associated Press that the end of the monarchy is near, that it will come as unexpectedly as did the assassination of King Carlos and the Crown Prince and the world will wake up one morning to find a republic in Portugal. The speaker said the revolution would be a peaceful one, and that there is a republican organization in every town supported by prominent professional men and others. He said King Manuel was well intentioned but that it would not be long before he falls into the hands of manipulators.

GRUESOME FIND.

OAKLAND, Feb. 8.—Workmen excavating for a sewer in Elmhurst today, found the dead body of a woman in a sack buried three feet under ground. A quantity of quicklime in the sack, had so badly decomposed the remains as to be unrecognizable. The body was found not far from the home of A. Wilkins, who is now in the Alameda county jail charged with the murder of Mrs. Verna Carmen, formerly of Kansas City, whom he says committed suicide, though he admits burying the body. The coroner is endeavoring to secure identification of the body found today.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 8.—Chancellor James R. Day was the guest of honor at the annual meeting and banquet of group V on the New York State Bankers' Association here tonight, and in a speech denounced those who would create class hatred and prejudice and cause distrust and suspicions of business men, "Whose genius and money turn the wheels which give employment to millions of laboring men and women."

MORAL INNOCENCE

Convicted Counterfeiter Filling A Christian Pulpit.

PLANS TO PREACH TODAY

"There is no Reason Why I Should Not Resume my Duties at Once," the Preacher Said, "and I shall Certainly do so."

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—The novel spectacle of a convicted counterfeiter filling a Christian pulpit is to be offered tomorrow at the First Congregational Church of Wheaton. Rev. Jas. R. Keyes, the pastor, who was recently found guilty in the United States district court at Springfield, Ill., of counterfeiting, will, according to his own plan and that of the officials of his church, preach in both morning and evening as well as directing the affairs of the Sunday school.

The congregation is declared to be a unit in the "moral innocence" of the Rev. Keyes. The officials and members, therefore, see no reason why their pastor should not lead them in service until he shall go to fulfill his sentence of two years in the government penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., or shall be given his full liberty.

Keyes himself last night expressed the emphatic opinion that his conviction was not the least bar to his appearance as an active minister of the gospel.

Keyes arrived at his home in Oak Park last night. He was released yesterday morning from the county jail at Springfield, a supersedeas having been granted by Judge Grosscup and Keyes having furnished bond to the amount of $2500. Keyes will now resume his pulpit pending the decision of the United States court of appeals in Chicago, which will pass on alleged errors in the trial. Luther Laffin Mills, Keyes' Chicago attorney, said last night that it might be several weeks or even months, before the appellate court could decide the case and explained that in the meantime Keyes would be at liberty.

Tracy C. Becker, will conduct the cases for the government with the exception of the Hermann and Williamson cases which Francis J. Heney expects to prosecute late in the April term. On the motion of Heney, indictments are dismissed only against Charles F. Lord and Charles E. Hayes. The sentencing of Hendricks and Clarence B. Zachary, who were convicted of subornation of perjury, and perjury, respectively, in August, 1906, is postponed until April 13 next. The same date is fixed for the sentencing of W. W. Steiwer, Hendricks and Zachary who, on January 22 last, pleaded guilty to the conspiracy indictment in the Hall case and testified for the government.

Mr. and Mrs. Heney and their party started for San Francisco tonight to take up the graft cases in that city.

"I do not know that my engagement in San Francisco will permit me to return to Oregon further to discuss Senator Fulton and his candidacy for re-election before the primary election," said Heney.

"When Fulton replies to my first address, I may have something further to say"

No formal statement of the assets and liabilities of Heath & Milligan has been filed but the attorneys of the various interests involved say the liabilities will amount to about $1,440,000. The assets are estimated at one million. The inability of the creditors to agree upon a plan of rehabilitation of the firms finances is the chief cause contributing to today's action.

JUROR KICKS.

Said That the Attorney Bored the Life Out of Him.

MACON, Ga., Feb. 8.—During the cross examination of a witness in a state case here yesterday Juror W. W. Aldoman arose and asked a question which created a sensation.

"What I want to know, your honor," said the juror, "is if we have to sit here and listen to the attorney examine the witness about something that has nothing in the world to do with the case, and by time is worth something to me and if the law can force me to sit here and be bored this way, I want to know it."

Judge Holman, who was trying the case, remarked that he did not make the law and that as long as he had to suffer that way every day the court was in session, the juror ought to live through one day of it.

The jury found against the attorney who Aldoman said "bored the life out of him."

SUNDAY SALOON QUESTION.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Thirteen thousand and 50 feet of signatures representing the desire of exactly 168,062 voters to pass upon the merits of the Sunday saloon question, have insured the appearance of a little ballot bearing this at the spring election April 7.

The great mass of petitions which have been circulated by workers for the United Societies gathered last night, making a formidable appearance as they were prepared for the binder. Stacked together they make a pile six feet and eight inches high. The saloon adherent declare the voters which these petitions represent guarantee an overwhelming majority for an open Sunday.

Today the petitions will be loaded on a dray and carried to the office of the election commissioners in the city hall.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Headed by what promises to be hot campaigns in Springfield, Bloomington and Decatur, residents of several Illinois counties will vote on the saloon question in the spring. Yesterday was the last day for filing petitions asking that the issue be submitted to the voters, and reports received from many counties indicate that the anti-saloon adherents have been successful, in obtaining enough signatures to allow the question to be balloted on at the polls. It is estimated that 1200 towns will take part in the contest.

Ernest A. Scrogin, attorney for the anti-saloon league of Illinois, and district superintendent declares that reports received within the last few days it is certain that 90 per cent of the townships in the counties in his jurisdiction will vote on the question.

MEXICAN TREATY.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 8.—It is highly probable that the treaty of 1848 between the United States and Mexico fixing the boundary line along the Rio Grande will be abrogated and another one signed and ratified as a result of negotiations now in progress. The question at issue is not to make the Rio Grande navigable to a greater extent than at present but to destroy its present navigability in the interest of agriculture and the interest of adjacent land on either side of the stream.
